Riddle: The Keeper of Secrets

The Riddle : -

I am a shield, yet I am shared.
I am a lock, yet I am paired.
Without me, your whispers are heard.
With me, your secrets are secured.

Two must meet to break my spell,
One is trust, the other dwells.
Find the name of the one who gave,
The power to keep data safe.

What am I?

The Clues :-
----

1 .) "In a world where secrets were never safe, one man forged a key that needed two to unlock—find his name, and you'll find the answer."